26 KNOWN DEAD IN MINE WAR; 16 PRISONERS MASSACRED AS THEY ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE

Three Found Hanging From Trees in Woods—Others Beaten To Death—Bodies Spread Over 15 Miles Square Area.

Women Laugh at Wounded Men Pleading for Water—Slain Were Among 44 Non-Union Workmen Captured by Strikers.

HEERIN, Ill., June 22 (Associated Press).—A check-up at noon to-day, made by the Associated Press, showed 26 known dead and indications that the total would be more than 20 in the hostilities between striking union miners and employers of the strip mines of Southern Illinois Coal Company near here.

Bodies were spread over an area 15 miles square, some of them riddled with bullets, others beaten to death, and three hanging by ropes from trees.

An Associated Press correspondent, after ten ineffectual attempts to-day, finally persuaded a taxicab driver to take him through the scene of the fight. The strip mine had been fired and a freight train on a siding also was burning while miners looted several cars of food supplies.

The bodies of the sixteen non-union men were found in a woods near the Strip mine, six miles east of here. A man named McDowell, foreman at the mine, was beaten to death, and the other fourteen, exclusive of the man hanged, were shot to death. It was stated the men were massacred when they attempted to escape after being taken prisoner by the union forces.

The dead non-union men were reported to have been among forty-four prisoners captured at the strip mine. Four others were found riddled with bullets and are not expected to recover. What became of the other twenty-four could not be learned.

There were several thousand men and boys present when the sixteen non-union men were killed at 9 o'clock this morning. The forty-four men were taken prisoners at the camp, herded in front of the captors.

First Triplets, Now Quintuplets, But "There Ain't No Use Kicking"

Father of Five, However, Isn't Enthusiastic Over Doctor's Observations About Progression by Odd Numbers.

NATCHEZ, Miss., June 22.—William Prestage of Floyd, a small community in Louisiana, dazed but resigned, is receiving the applause of his home town over the latest arrivals at his house—three boys and two girls, all healthy. His philosophy is summed up in these words:

"Well, there ain't no use kicking, is there?"

SENATOR GLASS CALLED A "LIAR" BY SEN. HEFLIN

Declares Statements Made by Glass Defending Bank System Were Inaccurate.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Senator Glass, Democrat, of Virginia, was called a "liar" to-day in the Senate by Senator Hefflin, Democrat, Alabama, after the Virginia Senator had declared that a statement made by the Alabama Senator was false.

The Senators were called to order by Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, and under the Senate rules each was required to take his seat.

Senator Hefflin had declared that statements made by Senator Glass in an address some time ago defending the Federal Reserve Banking System were inaccurate. The Virginia Senator instantly was on his feet, denying that there were inaccurate statements in the speech and banging his desk said he was "getting tired of the false statements by the Senator from Alabama."

"If the Senator says that what I said is false he is a liar," returned Senator Hefflin.

Senator Watson then called the two Senators to order and Senator Williams (Dem., Miss.) insisted that the call to order be enforced.

POSTMAN CATCHES A FALLING BABY IN HIS MAILBAG

Henry M. Druckman of No. 472 Gates avenue, Brooklyn, a letter carrier attached to Station "B," was delivering mail in President Street to-day when he saw a baby climbing to the sill of a first floor window at No. 196 President Street. He hurried across the street thinking to notify the child's mother, but the baby kept on climbing and crawled over the sill.

Druckman got under the window just as the child fell out. He stretched his mail bag, which was empty, and caught the baby in it. The child was unharmed. The baby is Harry Levy Jr., aged 2.

"I knew it wouldn't happen again," Bill," remarked the doctor. "As I said five years ago, triplets are unusual."

"Dunno, doctor," replied the father of the newly arrived five, "did it ever occur to you that neither Mrs. Prestage nor me is dead yet?"

WARD NOT TO HAVE IMMEDIATE TRIAL, WEEKS ANNOUNCES

District Attorney issues Statement After Court Had Forced His Hand.

INDICTMENT ATTACKED.

Prosecutor Must Now Consent to Inspection of Grand Jury Minutes.

District Attorney Weeks issued a formal statement this afternoon that he would not move the trial of Walter Ward for the murder of Clarence Peters for July 17.

This was in answer to an announcement by Justice Morschauer that unless the District Attorney consented to give Ward an early trial the minutes of the Grand Jury which indicted Ward for murder should be disclosed to the defense. The defense at a hearing to-day had asked Justice Morschauer to rule that they must have both an early trial and the Grand Jury minutes.

"The District Attorney," said the Weeks statement, "has made his protest against giving the defense access to the Grand Jury minutes on the ground that such action would gravely hamper the prosecution; the case is not yet in proper shape to present to a trial jury."

The right of the District Attorney to fix the date of trial was unquestioned, Justice Morschauer said, and he would not presume to advise the District Attorney as to the exercise of that right. On the other hand, if the defendant was to be kept in jail all summer on an indictment which was attacked as unjust by his counsel, it was only right and proper that counsel should have an opportunity of carrying into court their contentions against the sufficiency of the evidence on which the indictment was based.

In opposing the motion to fix July 17 as the date of trial and to furnish Ward with the Grand Jury testimony, Mr. Weeks said that the investigation was still incomplete. To allow Ward to see the testimony would give him warning of several lines of inquiry as to which he now knew nothing and would enable him to block those inquiries in his own interest. Five men have been indicted for murder in the county since Jan. 1, Mr. Weeks said, and in no case have they been furnished with the Grand Jury minutes, because it has not yet become the proper time for that advantage to be given to them.

Mr. Weeks solemnly charged that former Justice Isaac M. Mills, who made the principal argument on the Ward side of the case, had maligned him, though a "friend of twenty-five years standing." This reminded his hearers that it was Judge Mills who first suggested Mr. Weeks as a candidate for the office he now holds. Mr. Weeks said he was not conscious of having been brutal in saying he would try the case "when it was ready to be tried and not before."

"It is not the law," he said, "that a man may kill another in Westchester County, wait a week (until the body of the dead man has been identified) before coming and then say: 'I killed him because I was afraid he would kill me.' He cannot justify the killing of a man as an act dictated by his whim or judgment."

Mr. Weeks said he had no patience with Judge Mills' assertion that the authorities must accept all of Walter Ward's explanatory statement if they accepted his admission that he killed Peters. It was in part true, he said. For instance, there was no doubt that Peters was dead and he was killed by a bullet which fitted a pistol owned by Ward. There were other parts of

FOREIGN WOMEN SHACKLED AND LASHED INTO SLAVERY AFTER CHINESE MASSACRE

Great Uprising in Kiangsi Province Is Reported, With Slaughter Exceeding That of Boxer Outbreak.

British Missionaries Appeal to London Foreign Office for Help Over Heads of Legation in Peking.

SHANGHAI, June 22.—Foreign women missionaries have been roped with Chinese, two by two, and driven into the mountains, according to reports from Kiangsi giving details of the most horrible massacres since the Boxer rebellion.

Soldiers with whips lashed the foreign women to heavy chains on the march into captivity.

More than 10,000 Chinese and many foreigners are reported to have been murdered in widespread slaughter by mutinous troops in the Kiangsi Province.

British missionaries are reported to have appealed direct to the Foreign Office at London for the heads of the Peking Legation, for assistance against the mutineers.

"They are quoted as saying the disaster is the most terrible in years."

BRITISH WARSHIP RUSHED TO SCENE OF CHINA MUTINY

PEKING, June 22 (Associated Press).—Between 10,000 and 15,000 troops under Wu Pei Fu, chief military leader of the new Government, have mutinied and slain "thousands" of persons in Kiangsi Province, according to reports reaching here.

Reports of the mutinies are vague, but those telling of the broad extent of the mutineers' ruthlessness apparently are authentic. To-day's despatches indicate that the situation in that province is worse, if anything, than it was last night.

Reports of activities of the mutinous troops received from Hankow and Nanchang stated that the mutineers were led by Gen. Tsai Chen Hsun, Military Commander of Peking, who was leading his men northward and approaching Changshu Ki, a city about 100 miles north of Kiangsi and fifty miles south of Nanchang.

The British gunboat Cockchafer entered Poyang Lake, a large inland body of water in the northern end of Kiangsi Province, to pick up foreigners in danger at Nanchang. The American gunboat Monocacy probably will follow the Cockchafer.

Northern reinforcements of Wu Pei Fu forces are arriving at Kiangsi and proceeding to Nanchang. The American gunboats Isabel and Foxglove are being held in readiness and will be despatched via the Kan River to Poyang Lake should it become necessary to protect nationals in Nanchang.

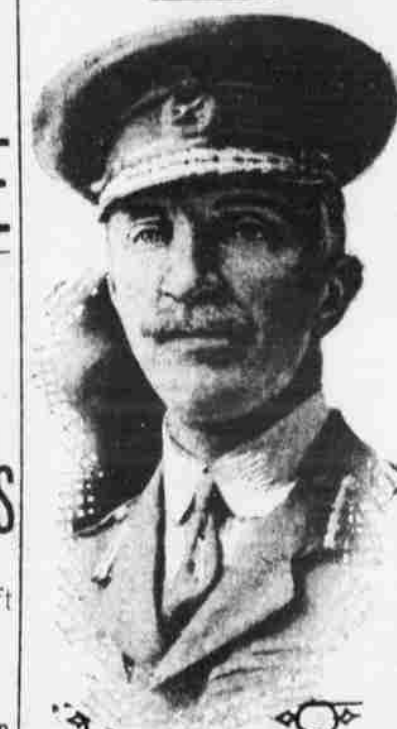

DR. SUN A CAPTIVE, INVITED TO PEKING TO AID UNITE CHINA

KIUKIANG, China, June 22 (Associated Press).—A President on exile day morning, a prisoner and on flight from his capital on Tuesday night—that, in brief, is the history of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, recently head of the Canton Government in China. Dr. Sun's wife also is reported a prisoner.

Dr. Sun is a captive on the Chinese armored cruiser Hakchi. Sun, though a prisoner, is by no means disheartened. The Provisional Government set up in Canton, in its first official act to-day, decided that he should be permitted to resign instead of being expelled from his Presidential office and that he should be granted

HAGEN LEADS WAY WITH 149 IN PLAY FOR BRITISH TITLE

Barnes Ties Taylor and Duncan for Second With 151—Hutchinson Has 153.

SANDWICH, Eng., June 22.—Walter Hagen, of Detroit, led the field of eighty golfers in the British open championship at the end of the first day's play with a card of 149.

Jim Barnes, American open champion, who was in line for a remarkably low score, fell down badly coming home in the afternoon, and was tied with Taylor and Duncan, British pros, for second place with 151.

Barnes took a 43 for the last nine, after going out in a sensational 33. J. Gassart turned in a 153, as did Jack Hutchinson, last year's champion.

Starting on the second eighteen holes, Duncan turned in a 75 for a total of 151 and Alec Herd a 79 for a total of 155.

On his second round, Roger Wethered turned in a 78, which gave him a total of 154; Boomer went around in an 80 for a total of 155, and Mitchell scored another 79 for a total of 153.

Ted Hay and J. H. Taylor, two British players, led the field at the close of the first eighteen. Both went around in 73.

G. Faulkner was second with a 74, and seven players were tied for third place with 75, including Jim Barnes, the American champion, and Audrey Boomer, who drove off first this morning.

Walter Hagen, American favorite for the title, was next with a 76. Jack Hutchinson, defending champion, and Joe Kirkwood, the Australian, both turned in a 79.

Other scores were: T. Walton, 152; Kirkwood, 155; Ray, 154; Cyril Tolley, 167.

A strong wind blew across the course during the afternoon, making play more difficult.

SANDWICH, June 22 (Associated Press).—Play for the British open golf championship began early to-day over the Royal St. George's course.

A large gallery had assembled when the first pair, Alexander Herd and George Duncan, started their round. They were followed at six-minute intervals by the other couples.

The championship play is over 72 holes, 36 to-day and 36 to-morrow. Hutchinson to-day played with H. Q. Amos of Bramley, Hagen with B. G. L. Holland of Northamptonshire and Barnes with Tom Williamson of Nottinghamshire.

GEN. WILSON, ULSTER LEADER, SLAIN BY IRISH REPUBLICANS AS HE ENTERS LONDON HOME

Field Marshal Shot as He Leaves Auto by Connolly and McBrien, Caught After Running Fight—Taft Nearby Calling on Harvey.

LONDON, June 22 (Associated Press).—Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, former Chief of the British Imperial General Staff and lately military adviser to the Ulster Government, was assassinated to-day near the door of his home in Eaton Place, London.

Two men fired upon the Field Marshal as he was alighting from an automobile after attending a war memorial unveiling where he delivered a speech.

Struck by two bullets, he staggered and fell. He was carried into his home, where he died shortly after death and before the arrival of physicians who were summoned.

The two assassins fled, closely pursued by the police, who had been guarding the Field Marshal on information that his life was likely to be attempted. Both men were captured.

The arrested men, the Central News states, gave the names of James O'Brien, age 24, no occupation, no address, and James Connolly, age 21, no occupation, no address.

One of the two men ran toward Eaton Square, passing No. 29 Chesam Place, which is the residence of Ambassador Harvey. Shortly before this, Chief Justice Taft of the United States Supreme Court, had entered the Ambassador's house.

This assassin terrorized pedestrians as he ran. A number of taxicabs and policemen took up the pursuit of the assassin, who continued to fire as he fled.

The police station is near the Wilson residence, a number of the policemen quickly turned out in their shirt sleeves to join in the chase.

One of the captured men, who is very tall, declared he was an officer. Blood was streaming from his face from a cut caused by some one striking him with a bottle. It took four men to carry him to the police station. His companion is a man of very short stature.

An eyewitness is reported to have attempted suicide and to have inflicted serious injuries upon himself with his own revolver.

Six men in all are believed to have been implicated in the attack and a house to house search by detectives was being made this afternoon in the vicinity of the crime.

An eyewitness said the Field Marshal was crossing the pavement when the first shot was fired. The victim staggered and nearly fell. He was reeling when the second and third shots quickly followed the first.

Policemen rushed up, upon which the assassins turned their weapons on the officers, of whom there were four, two being seriously wounded.

One of the police received a serious wound in the stomach. A civilian who joined the pursuit in a motor car was wounded in the leg.

The sound of the firing brought many people running to the scene. The two men made off, but were quickly followed, one of them, finding himself about to be overtaken, turned upon himself the revolver to which he had clung. The bullet took effect and the man fell, badly hurt, and was taken to a hospital.

The second man was captured before he had gone far. The body of the Field Marshal was carried into his house and physicians quickly arrived, but death had already occurred.

A workman who saw the shooting said that as the Field Marshal alighted from his car a man standing in the middle of the road fired a shot and that another was fired by a man standing on the corner, a door or two away. One of the shots struck the panel of the door of the Wilson home.

The Field Marshal dodged, this account says, and the first shot missed him. He turned and faced his assassin, who fired two more shots, one striking him in the chest and the other in the head.

The Field Marshal made a desperate
